Promoting Health and Well-being

Statement

Our setting recognises that children's health is an integral part of their emotional, mental, social, environmental, and spiritual well-being and is supported by attention to these aspects. We promote health, safety and well-being through our practices, policies and procedures. We endeavour to minimise hazards and risks to enable the children at our setting to thrive in a healthy and safe environment. Safeguarding children from harm is a shared responsibility by everyone within the setting.

Procedures

Physical well-being

All children are different and develop in individual ways and at varying rates. Every area of development -physical, cognitive, linguistic, spiritual, social, and emotional, is equally important. Staff are aware of the different stages of child development and how the effects of diet, exercise, environment, sleep and emotion can all affect their development. Our setting provides a safe, secure, stimulating and supportive environment for all children and does not discriminate against any child or their family on the basis of protected characteristics as defined by the Equalities Act 2010. The importance of hygiene is promoted, and children are supported to maintain their own hygiene by such things as washing hands and covering mouths to reduce spreading germs to others. We use the Catch It, Bin It, Kill It procedure when blowing noses and dealing with sneezes.

Healthy eating

Children need a balanced diet that contains foods from all the essential food groups to thrive and grow. Our setting regards snack times as an important part of the settings day. Eating represents a social time for children and adults and allows the children to learn about healthy eating. We promote healthy eating using resources and learning about healthy foods and practices through a wide range of activities. At snack time, we aim to encourage parents to provide good quality nutritious food that meets the children's individual dietary needs. We follow these procedures to promote healthy eating in our setting.

- We record information about each child's dietary needs on their registration form and parents sign this to signify it is correct.

- We regularly consult parents to check the information is correct and current, any amendments are made and signed by the parents.
- Parents provide each child with a water drinking bottle daily.
- Milk and water is available at snack time.
- We promote healthy eating and childrens understanding of the importance of a balanced diet through a variety of practical activities and discussions. Stories, posters, and resources enable us to reinforce this on a daily basis.
- We support parents by giving advice as required and displaying literature to promote their knowledge and understanding of a healthy diet and its importance.
- All staff receive food hygiene training and refreshers to ensure safe best practice is maintained.
- We wash our hands and the children wash theirs prior to the having their snack to promote hygiene. They wash their hands to a song that is the correct length ensuring their hands are washed properly for the right amount of time. We educate the children on the importance of hygiene.
- We plan activities that encourage healthy food choices and the role food plays in maintaining health.
- We promote healthy eating to be positive role models that the children will follow and continue to make healthy choices in the future.

Exercise

Our setting is aware of the importance of exercise and the benefits it has to child as a whole. We recognise not only the benefits it has on their health but also promotes stamina, endurance and allows an opportunity to socialise with their peers

- We encourage the children to move in a variety of ways to develop co-ordination, balance, and gross motor skills.
- We encourage and support children until they feel confident to try activities without adult support.
- We discuss and promote the importance of exercise and the impact and effects it has on their bodies, and the importance of rest.
- Staff promote exercise by participating and taking the lead for children to follow.

Supporting parents and families

- Staff support parents and families by offering advice on areas of concern
- Provide emotional support to those that are emotionally vulnerable and experiencing difficulties.
- Liaise with health visitors, other professionals and local services in order to provide information and support if required.

- Staff are made aware during induction to the setting of all the settings policies and procedures and ensure they are followed.
- Children's individual needs and requirements are met, and their feelings accepted and respected. Friendships and team building are encouraged and promoted through daily activities.
- The settings policy on Achieving positive behaviour ensures that children can feel safe and secure as negative attitudes and bullying are dealt with promptly and effectively. We encourage the children to follow the 'golden rules' which is a set of basic rules with pictures, so children have a clear understanding of what is expected within the setting.
- Children gain a sense of well-being when they are encouraged to take responsibility and join in with activities that interest them.
- The child has a key person allocated to them on induction to provide support and guidance throughout their time in the setting. The key person will help guide them through transition from the setting to school, providing emotional support for the parent and child.
